Capt. B. B. While the company has not been brought entirely up to recruiting strength, only 45 having been enrolled up to last night, the officers are confident that the necessary 53 members will be secured before the company leaves Columbia.

Nine members of the company left the city yesterday morning for Columbia in charge of Lieut. Duckett, 32 leave today in charge of First Lieutenant, R. J. Pamer, and several others are to leave Sunday. Capt. Gossett said last night that he would not leave himself until Sunday morning and that several members of the company had been granted this privilege. ## SMALL ADVANCE PRICE OF COTTON

Walter Storm Says War Scare
About Been Discounted

Further discussing the effects of the Mexican trouble upon the cotton market, Mr. Walter Storm, member of the firm of Johnston, Storm & Co., who arrived here yesterday in the interest of his concern, stated that so far the price of cotton had only advanced about 60 points as a result of the war scare. He said the possible effects of war with Mexico had about been discounted, and he did not anticipate any market fluctuations as a result.

Mr. Storm discussed the situation on the border and in Mexico very interestingly, and he is giving the reports from there close attention. He may stay in Anderson for some time, as Col. B. C. McNulty, Jr., manager of the cotton office, will leave tomorrow for Camp Styx.

HER THIRD HOME BURNED

Mrs. J. J. Kelly Lost Her Home Near
Cheddar Friday Morning

The residence of Mrs. J. J. Kelly, one mile west of Cheddar, was completely destroyed by fire Friday morning. Only a few chairs were saved. It is not known positively how the fire originated, but is supposed to have caught from a fire started by the children who were burning some paper downstairs, while the fire was discovered in the room overhead.

The house was a new eight or ten room structure and cost more than $10,000. This is the third Mrs. Kelly has had in recent years. Last year her home in Belton was burned, and previously she lost her home on the same site of the one burned Friday morning.

Death of Mrs. Julia Hammond
Mrs. Julia Hammond, wife of Mr. W. H. Hammond, died at her home, 17 Street, Bryson mills, last night, aged 45 years. The funeral services were held at 2 o'clock this afternoon and interment was made in the City cemetery.

A RESERVE COMPANY IS BEING ORGANIZED

ANDERSON MEN ARE GET-TING TOGETHER ANOTHER
BODY OF MILITIA

30 OFFER TO GO

J. J. Trowbridge, At One Time
2nd Lieutenant of Company B. is Interested

Plans for an additional company of militia to be composed of local boys are under way. It was learned last night. Thirty men have already signified their willingness to join the proposed company, and those behind the movement believe that they can successfully recruit a sufficient number of men without going out of the city.

The purpose of organizing a new company is to have men to respond to a second call, and the new body of infantry will likely be held here as reserves. Messrs. J. J. Trowbridge, Prue Ligon and J. L. Farmer are behind the movement, and when seen last night were very enthusiastic over the outlook for getting together a company that would do Anderson and the state credit.

Mr. Trowbridge was at one time 2nd Lieut. of Company B, and is quite cognizant with military affairs. Also, he has been offered a first lieutenancy with the Greer, S. C. company of militia, of the 1st. S. C. Regiment. Mr. Trowbridge had not decided just what he would do concerning this offer last night.

Any young men interested in the plans for organizing a company of reserves are urged to meet with the promoters at the Armory hall this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

C. C. Hall Joins Company To Go To The Border

City Editor of The Intelligencer
Is Volunteer With Machine
Gun Corps

Evidence of the increasing patriotic sentiment sweeping over the country is seen in the enlistment of Clement C. Hall, for the past year city editor of The Intelligencer. Newspaper men are exempt from military service, and only motives prompted by his country's needs led Mr. Hall to join the machine gun company just organized in Anderson.

Mr. Hall has seen service in the journalistic field in other cities, and is a reporter of ability. His services with this paper have been highly satisfactory and it is with regret that his co-workers see him leave for Mexico. Although the company will not go to Columbia until today, it is generally conceded that before another week has passed the boys will either be on the border or en route there.

Probably less newspaper men enlist in the army than members of any other profession. Their duties at home are so arduous and so necessary, especially in case of war, that their services are almost indispensable.

In the event of war with Mexico Mr. Hall will be in a position that will enable him to communicate with the paper at frequent intervals, and he will keep this paper well informed as to the situation, especially as it directly affects Anderson and the boys who have gone from here. His comrades in the newspaper office wish him Godspeed.

ROSCOE KAY RUN DOWN BY AUTO AT ST. CORNER

Boy Is Painfully Injured When
Hit By Car

Roscoe Kay, 12-year-old son of Isaac Kay, of this city, was run over and painfully injured yesterday afternoon by an automobile driven by Mr. Gus Norman, the accident occurring at the corner of West Wilkner and Peoples street. The boy's screams led bystanders to believe that he was seriously injured, but when he had been brought into the intelligence office and examined by a physician, it was found that his injuries consisted of a few bruises about the legs.

Death of a Little Boy
James F. Dean, Jr., the four year old son of Mr. J. F. Dean, died at his home, 21 1/2 street, last night. The funeral services were held at 2 o'clock this afternoon and interment was made in the City cemetery.

GOVERNOR MANNING THINKS CRISIS IN MEXICO IMMINENT

SAYS TROUBLE ALONG BOR-DER HAS BEEN KEEP-ING HIM BUSY

TO SPEAK TODAY

Governor Well Pleased With Campaign—Says Son Coming From New York
to Join Cavalry

"The Mexican situation is more serious than people really realize and I believe a crisis is imminent," said Governor Richard I. Manning at a local hotel last night while discussing the border situation and the South Carolina militia. "Recruits in large numbers are being rounded up rapidly, the governor continued, "but we need lots of men yet to bring the two state regiments to recruiting strength."

The governor said he was well pleased with the reception he had received in the towns of the Piedmont, but added that the Mexican situation was so constantly on his mind at this time that he found it hard to concentrate his thoughts upon a political talk. He said he was constantly interrupted during his campaign rounds with telegrams and long distance telephone calls from Columbia calling his attention to some problem that had come up incident to the arrangements for Camp Styx.

Splendid progress has been made at the camp for the arrival of the militia, according to the governor, and plans for further improving conditions are going forward rapidly. The governor would make no prediction as to just how soon the two regiments would be brought to recruiting strength. As new arrivals are coming in almost hourly, he said he did not know just how many men had arrived at the camp.

The governor stated that it was important to bring the two regiments up to recruiting strength before additional companies were organized. He said, though, that it was a good plan to arrange for reserves.

"Anderson is to be highly complimented upon her rapid work of bringing Company B to more than the required strength, the governor stated, and I am hopeful that the full regiments will soon be ready to march."

The governor did not speak at Walhalla yesterday, having been called to Columbia upon matters concerning the mobilization at Camp Styx. He said he hoped nothing would prevent his speaking here today.

Cecil Manning, of The New York Evening Times staff, has secured leave of absence and will join the Charleston Light Dragoons, of which his brother is captain, according to the governor, who said he received a wire from his son yesterday.

HEARTY APPROVAL GOSSETT'S ACTION

Directors of Mills Endorse Military Stand of President

The act of Mr. B. B. Gossett, president of the Riverside and Tuxway mills, in responding to the call to the colors and assisting in the work of recruiting, was commended by the boards of directors of these concerns at a meeting held yesterday morning, all agreeing with Mr. Gossett that such was the proper and only thing he could have done. The directors gave him their permission to head the machine gun company.

Mill interest in the east have commended Mr. Gossett for the position he has taken in the Mexican trouble, and he has received several congratulatory telegrams. Mr. Gossett is a graduate of the United States Naval academy at Annapolis and for the past year has been assistant in inspection of small arms practice of the First South Carolina regiment, ranking as captain. During his absence Mr. Jas. P. Gossett, father of Capt. Gossett, who is vice president of the Tuxway and Riverside mills, will take up the duties of president.

CAMPAIGN MEETING IN ANDERSON TODAY

ALL ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR CONVENIENCE OF
CROWD AND SPEAKERS

AT BEUNA VISTA

Meeting Will Begin Promptly at 11 O'Clock at Park—Big
Crowds are Expected

The fifth meeting of the county-to-county political campaign will be held here today, speaking beginning promptly at 11 o'clock. Everything that could be possibly done has been arranged for by County Chairman Tolly, who has spent considerable time in making preparations for the meeting.

The meeting here today will be the last until Tuesday, when the candidates assemble at Greenwood. According to the arrangements candidates for railroad commissioner will speak first and the gubernatorial aspirants next. This will enable the residents of the mill villages to hear the candidates for governor, as well as many of the other candidates as they are off duty for the day at noon.

If bygone campaigns forecast anything, the meeting today will be one of the most interesting of the state canvass. Anderson is one of the largest counties the candidates will visit, both in the point of area and population, and a record-breaking crowd is expected in the city today. The fact that the meeting is held on Saturday will alone be a big drawing card.

Candidates will speak in the following named order: Railroad commissioner, governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, state treasurer, Richard I. Manning will lead off in the list of gubernatorial candidates, Cole L. Blaise second; Robert A. Cooper, third; Jno. Madison DesChamps, fourth; Jno. T. Duncan, fifth.
